To whom it may concern:

Hi my name is Linda Contreras, I am a worker's comp patient from Tucson. I have been seeing my pain management Doctor for several years and have been receiving my medications from him as well. If these rules are approved I would not have my medication immediately available to me. I see my pain management specialist in person to receive treatment and discuss my medication. He dispenses a three month supply of my medication on that visit. This allows me to ensure that I have my medication with no insurance or pharmacy issues. It also ensures that I am given the correct medication needed for how I am feeling at the time. I may feel better or worse when seeing my doctor and he is better able to manage that.

Currently I have 2 medications unrelated to my injuries that I am prescribed yearly by my primary care. Every month even though these meds should be on auto refill and should be filled at the same time they never are. On a regular basis I have to call and often even after calling I have problems when arriving to pick them up (one or both still have not been filled). Often I have to leave and come back at a later date to get them.

Currently I get a three month supply of my medications with no concerns. My hope is that this will will not change.
